

BRITISH WRITER FINDS VARYING INTERNATIONAL OPINIONS IN U. S.

"Heart of America" Responds to Spirit of Good Fellowship, But Those Opposing League Astound Newspaperman—We Don't Like France Much and Hate Germany Less.

By SIR JOHN FOSTER FRASER, Special Correspondent of the London Evening Standard, Recently in the United States.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 24.—The war has been a great instructor to the American people in general. They are much interested in the higher politics of other countries. They want the United States to play a big part in world affairs, and therefore the majority are wholeheartedly in favor of the league of nations; but there is more than a little nervousness that, as Americans are novices in the matter of diplomacy, they may be committed to engagements which they will afterwards regret. There is a great regard for British diplomacy, and just a little suspicion.

The heart of America responds to the spirit of international good-will which is the basis of the league. Occasionally, however, the head of America wonders whether the league is not a cunning device foisted by European on Uncle Sam so that he will have to finance bankrupt countries to get them out of the mess when they slip into it again. There is a conscious of a fear that the United States may get involved in foreign entanglements.

What strikes the Britisher as curious is that the folk who think that the league should be shown the door so far as America is concerned, who are the champions of a national isolation guarded by the Monroe doctrine, are the same folk who want something to be done to clear the Japanese out of Shanghai, to compel the English to do justice to Ireland, to stop Bulgaria having any of the nation of Thrace, who think that

DOCTORS FIND REMEDY FOR COLDS AND FLU

Calotab, the New Nauseless Calomel Tablets, Cut Short Colds and and May Prevent Flu By Keeping Liver Active.

Physicians have learned from experience during the epidemic of influenza, that one of the most important factors in the prevention of flu and pneumonia is to keep the liver active so that the digestive organs may be in perfect working order and the system thereby enabled to throw off colds, check sore throats and resist serious complications. For this purpose they have found that the new, nausealess Calomel tablets, Calotab, are far more effective even than the old style Calomel, which was formerly the universal favorite, as Calotab does not weaken the patient, nor interfere with the appetite and digestion.

At the first sign of a cold or sore throat, doctors recommend one Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, no the slightest interference with your diet, pleasure, or work. Next morning you wake up feeling fine, your liver is active, and your appetite is keen for a good breakfast.

For your protection Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs. Your money back if you are not delighted with them—adv.

Letters To The Herald

IS A MAN SAFE HERE?

Editor El Paso Herald: In reference to the letter I felt flattered when the jury rendered its verdict. I mentioned to you that I knew just how I stood before that jury, but was advised to keep still as it was no reflection on me, but just one of a thousand similar cases during the past 20 years. But since reading the foreman's letter I have this to say: I know that the credibility of the witnesses is left to the jury and Mr. Franklin does not take exception to Mr. Franklin's statement that a man is safe in El Paso, if he attends to his honest business. I have been told that I had better look out for having the nerve to testify in this case.

L. W. Hoffecker.

DEPENDS ACTION OF JURY.

Editor El Paso Herald: In the defense of the jurors in the recent murder trial, I will say I never sat on a jury with men of more broadminded views. They were and are as good, law abiding citizens as you will meet anywhere. They were not professional jurors, as some would have you think, but men with families, hard workers, men from various walks of life, proud they are American citizens, considering it their duty to uphold law and order and the constitution and laws as they now stand. These jurors, after careful consideration of the case, presented to them by the evidence of the witnesses, returned a true verdict. In dispensing justice, I find it impossible to follow a strictly straight line. We find it necessary to deviate as circumstances require and at all times to temper justice with mercy. It grieves me greatly that a minister of the gospel should ignore this great principle our Savior advocated. We have a civilization in the great southwest that is perishing on our own. It deals out justice quickly sometimes, and it might look like to a pacifist, but it saves many a long heard bill to the state. A woman or child has a right to live in the country in perfect safety, and man also if he attends his own honest business.

Foreman of the Jury.

HE GETS A DIFFERENCE.

Editor El Paso Herald: The returned soldier must be astonished and disgusted with the changes that have taken place during his absence. When he went to the war his home country was very much like it had been for many years. Some of the people were sane. Upon his return he finds that his home country has been overrun by a mob of beautiful and virtuous men and brave, bold, fearless women. While he was conquering the enemy in Europe the "reformers" were lambasting everybody and everything at home. After having been "gassed" with chlorine and other poisonous vapors on the field of battle, he returns to his home only to find that everything has been contaminated and converted into gas. If he is thirsty and asks for a drink he finds that everything drinkable has been poisoned with carbonic acid gas; the air he breathes is loaded with sulphuretted hydrogen gas; those "man" wells, the politicians, preachers and reformers, doctored the

CATARHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Earsmith (double strength), and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open. Breathing becomes easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone having hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.
